

THE PROJECT:

As a psychologist you need to know how to manage your patients and how to properly ask the right questions in your sessions. In this project, you will choose a psychological issue, a disorder, ..etc ;and then you will prepare :

- ❖ Some basic questions that you think should be asked to the patient in the first session.
- ❖ Write down essential questions that will help you diagnose or analyze the psychological issue of the patient.(which you chose)
- ❖ Under each question, write three or four lines explaining why did you choose to ask this particular question (the purpose of the question or what information you are aiming to know about the patient issue)

Note:

- Considering the current pandemic, this MIGHT be marked as your interrogation.
Take this project seriously.
- Do not write less than ten (10) questions.
- It is an individual work, but if necessary you can work in pairs.
- You can use word to write down your questions. Don't forget your name and group.
- Each group president should collect his classmates' work and send them to me via email: zidelkheirnawal199x@gmail.com .
